Mrs. Ferngren was visiting at her daughter's home at Christmas when she suffered a heart attack and it was thought her condition was well enough to warrant moving to her daughter's home where the family could give her special care. On Sunday, however, she became very tired and passed away at 4 p.m. Our deepest sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

The 'flu has been very prevalent around town; Mrs. Wilda Charney and Mrs. Blake Stillings have been the last two who have taken it but both are on the road to recovery.

We would like to correct an error published in the Chronicle previously concerning Frank Mair. It was printed that he had passed away. This should have read passed exams in accountancy.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Stafford and family, together with Wilson Stafford are on a holiday to the States where they intend to spend several weeks.

Party Entertained In Beiseker

BEISEKER — Miss Angela Schmaltz entertained Tuesday evening, Jan. 9, in the Beiseker Memorial Hall in honor of Miss Rose Sander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Sander, whose marriage to Lawrence Stian of Rockyford, took place Tuesday, Jan. 16.

An enjoyable evening was spent playing court whist with Mrs. Leo Hagel and Mrs. Anton Krenzle tied for the first prize. With a cut for high card, Mrs. Leo Hagel won again. Miss Grace Schmaltz won low. After a delicious lunch, Mrs. John Mayer, on behalf of the guests, presented the bride-elect with a lovely dinner set.

Crossfield Curlers Enter Bonspiel

CROSSFIELD. — The Carstairs Men's Bonspiel was well represented by Crossfield curlers as five rinks entered the competition which took all last week.

Gordon Purvis rink won first in the fourth event; Ernie McNaughton rink second in the second event; and Ralph Budgeon first in the fourth event.

The local bonspielers are gone again this week to Didsbury to battle in that town's annual 'spiel.

Canada's western mountain covers 530,000 square miles.

Crossfield Rink Wins District Legion Brier

CROSSFIELD. — Skip Alfred Stevens with Walter Wilson, Bert Lilley and Walter Lilley comprised the Legion rink, which went to Olds on Saturday, Jan. 13 to participate in the district playdowns. They reported a nice time and were successful in winning three in a row which made them district winners. The playoff games will be announced later.

The Crossfield Junior Briers were not successful in holding their title. The games were held in Airdrie and the morning ice was fine but the chinook made very heavy ice in the afternoon which became an endurance test as good draw curling was entirely out. The winning rink will be announced next week.

Skating Club Holds Meeting

BEISEKER — The Beiseker Skating Club held a meeting on Wednesday evening, Jan. 10, when Mrs. Carl L. Schmaltz was asked to prepare a Skating Carnival. She agreed to do so, and the date was set for Thursday, February 22.

These carnivals, as in the past have given the public a splendid performance of various forms of fancy skating, drills, etc., and should have the wholehearted support of the parents during these many hours of tedious practice to see that their children attend regularly.

One of Mrs. Schmaltz's pupils of former years, Miss Agnes Boyd, will be greatly missed in the carnival this year. She has profited by her skating lessons here, and is now giving lessons to a class in Calgary.

The three girls chosen to compete for the title of Carnival Queen are Miss Marie Hagel for Beiseker, Miss Marilyn Stern for Level Land, and Miss Helen Malaki for Acme. We hope they are given your utmost support to further this splendid outdoor sport.

Right to vote in Canada's federal elections is conferred on all British subjects 21 years of age or older who have resided in Canada for 12 months prior to polling day.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

As Mr. A. E. Edlund's successor in Crossfield I would like to take this opportunity of introducing myself and sincerely hope that I may maintain the standards previously set.

EDITORIAL PAGE

Our Chinese Friends

That may seem a strange caption, in view of the fact that the hordes of Chinese Communists in Korea may soon be killing our Canadian soldiers on the bloody Pusan front.

But not all Chinese, by any means are Communist, and those lead by Chiang Kai-Shek, leader of China when she was our ally against Japan, are just as much opposed to Communism as any of us. Any feeling of antagonism against businessmen in Alberta would be unfair and unjust, just for that reason.

The Chinese embassy in Washington states that the great majority of Chinese in their homeland are anti-communist. There are persistent rumors of conditions close to civil war in the southern part of China. It is even being gossiped that two Chinese Communist generals are ready to come over to Chiang's side with their armies, if somebody will put up enough money.

Communists all over the world have been doing their best to upset the democratic system of government and whenever they can, cause bloody revolution to secure their evil designs.

Why not turn the tables on them? Let's use our money and brains to bring about counter-revolution in China now before the people are wholly indoctrinated with Communist philosophy. Red China looks like an excellent field to stage some experiments along these lines, and Kai-Shek's island fortress of Formosa would be a good place to cook up ingredients for the experiment.

False Prophets of Doom

Tuesday night of last week passed, and the world did not come to an end. If that was no surprise to the average Christian, it must have been a terrible shock to the 21 misled souls cooped up in a two-room shack in an interior B.C. town.

Christianity is sadly divided a thousand ways, because every reader of the Bible has the privilege of interpreting for himself what is written therein. But when Christ said: "No man knoweth the day nor the hour when the Son of Man cometh" the meaning was plain.

It is entirely scriptural to look for a day when Christ will come again, and this world, as we know it, now, will come to an end. It is blasphemy for anyone to predict that day and hour. Numerous self-styled prophets of the past have "foretold" doomsday, but the world has continued on its course despite these false prophets of doom.

A False War

Some months ago we heard it suggested that war with Russia, if and when such a holocaust occurs, would start as a battle between ideologies or as a defensive fight to prevent the world from being gobbled up by Moscow. After that, it could develop rapidly into a struggle between believers in God and the godless.

Communism is as much a religion as Christianity, but one of the big differences between the two is that Communists are fanatical in the propagation of their doctrine. Religion was to Mark the "opinion of the masses" but the men who teach his teachings into action have fed the masses with a much more powerful and, unfortunately, debilitating drug—worship of the state.

But would destruction of the Red Army destroy the philosophy, or religion, of Communism?

The answer is "no." Mere destruction of the Red Army would be a false war. The only way to destroy Communism is for those who profess to be Christians to propagandize our own belief in Christian democracy and put into practice the principles to which we pay lip service when we attend church. Failure to do so will result in victory for Communism by default, Red Army or no Red Army.

Note and Comment

Democracy develops demagogues because there are those willing to believe what they hear without knowing whether it is true or false.

Men are easily diverted from the truth by any appeals to their emotions and most of them haven't sense enough to know that somebody is giving them the works.

Odds & Ends

By T. W. PUE

An odd situation is in the making in Jasper Place village, with the Police Chief on suspension because of alleged indiscretions unbecoming an upholder of law and order. The Council of Jasper Place have taken this action pending a full investigation by the Attorney General's department.

Police Chief Kenny said at the time he would leave for the coast for a well-earned holiday, and in a way it's too bad he didn't.

go. Instead he has remained in town and by what I read in the papers is trying to stir up public opinion in his favour.

Now, I disagree entirely with this. Mr. Kenny is not an elected official. He is employed by the council, who are representatives of the people, to do a certain job. Electioneering is not part of a Police Chief's job. Besides it shouldn't matter to the Attorney General what anybody thinks—the investigator's report is all that is needed to settle the question.

Appeals to the public in a matter of this kind are out of place and definitely not in good taste.

AUTOCRATIC BUREAUCRATS

In South Edmonton Town Planner Noel Dant's action in declaring a lighted sign "Jesus Saves" in front of the Bethel Baptist Church illegal is meeting with a storm of protest. Under the guise of town planning, five-year planning or any other kind of planning, there is no place in our democratic system of government for any bureaucrat to dictate to any church what they shall have or shall not have in their doctrines and principles. The Baptist Church has had the traditional role in history of being unorthodox and "non-conformist" in practise and doctrine.

It's a long time since Government has sought to interfere with religious doctrine. If Mr. Dant can force the Baptists to take down their "Jesus Saves" sign, can he not then cook up a law prescribing the height of a church steeple, the size of the cross atop the Catholic Church, or the number of stained glass windows he'll permit in an Anglican Church?

We can get along with without Noel Dant. We cannot sacrifice our principles of religious freedom to a narrow autocratic civic department.

IS THIS CHURCH POLICY?

In a recent CBC forum on the essential role of the Church in society, the opinion was expressed that the Christian Church should lend its support to the co-operative movement because the co-operatives are non-profit organizations, working to bring more of the good things of this world to the people.

This would be a new role for the Christian Church, hitherto in its broadest aspects, the Church has concerned itself with the welfare (principally the spiritual welfare) of all mankind; and in its narrower aspects with the welfare of those who hold certain religious beliefs.

But here is a proposal to have it take sides among competitors in competitive business.

If all co-operatives were wholly good, and all their competitors were wholly bad, there might be some reason in the proposal.

But co-operatives are composed of human beings with human frailties and shortcomings, and these weaknesses are reflected in the organizations themselves. There are many excellent co-operatives in the country; but, like everyone else, they are exposed to temptations, and it is possible for them to degenerate into would-be-monopolies, tax-dodgers, and seekers after special privileges, as some of them have been known to do.

On the other hand, the great bulk of humanity's needs have always been supplied by men who invest their own money and their own talent in whatever business they think they can succeed in. They work hard serving the public and accept as reward whatever gain or loss their efforts can make the business yield.

These people do render a necessary service to all consumers; and if they find themselves unable to compete they disappear from the scene and others step into their places. Their value to the fellow men. They have to meet competition community is indicated by the extent to which the public patronize them.

If we could look into the hearts of all men we would probably find that the good and bad exist in about the same proportion among the co-operatives as among their competitors. We would also find that the public can be depended on to take its business to whoever agencies best serve its needs, every man being free to deal where he will.

If the Church should undertake to alter this arrangement by throwing in its lot with either the co-operatives or their competitors, it is to be feared that in doing so it would cease to be the guide and servant of humanity and become the instrument of a single class.

Clouds of war threaten to reign down a bloodbath on humanity.

Career Soldier

No, thank you, Mrs. MMB of Loughed.

As a professional soldier I am proud of the Canadian Army and I would hate to see it contaminated by criminals who have been confined to keep them away from civilian society. Would you like your son to serve shoulder to shoulder with a convict, knowing that a soldier's very life depends on having honest, courageous buddies at his side?

Advice to the Ignorant

Dear Sir—I wish to say a few words regarding two letters which appeared in your paper.

To 'Frankie' I'd like to say, "Any fool can do what you did on Christmas Eve, but a man, after reading the article you referred to, would have taken it to heart and benefited by it."

To Ed Nixon, I would suggest he look up last September's issue of Reader's Digest, and read the article "Why I Believe in God," which was written by a one-time atheist.

I feel very sorry for ignorant people like you.

Mannville. HOPEFUL.

Birthday of the Lord

Christmas was intended originally to be religious holiday. But, as we observe yearly, we have shamefully commercialized the day. No wonder drunken Voicer doesn't know why he gets plastered! In the Netherlands St. Nicholas comes on the night of December 5, thereby keeping the birthday of the Lord holy. I think it would be a great thing for Canadians to copy this custom.

Harry's Letters

I was shocked by the vulgar letter the President of the United States wrote to a Washington music critic. And surprised that Mr. Puer omitted all mention of this in his column. Would it not be better for the United States if the President used some of his energy to worry about the defence of Canada against Russia? Defence of our country is defence of the U.S.A.

Municipalities Provide Key To Alberta Civil Defence

Alberta's municipalities will provide the key to the province's Civil Defence programs, according to Premier E. C. Manning.

A widespread scheme to prepare Albertans to meet any emergency, in either war or peace, is being promoted by the provincial government, in co-operation with cities, towns and municipal districts.

Civil Defence plans are moving into high gear in view of the growing international crisis. Yet officials stress the fact they're not trying to 'scare anybody', but are merely being prepared for any eventuality.

The value of the Civil Defence organization in peacetime emergencies is also being stressed.

Alberta appears to be leading the nation in formation of a Civil Defence organization. While most work is still confined to the planning stage, within a few months an adequate civil defence organization will be functioning here.

TO CLASSIFY ALBERTA TOWNS

Alberta towns will be classified in three categories — target, cushion, and reception areas.

The target areas will probably include Edmonton, Calgary, Medicine Hat, and Lethbridge, along with perhaps Redwater, Leduc or Turner Valley.

Cushion areas will comprise those communities immediately surrounding the target areas. Edmonton's cushion areas will be St. Albert, Morinville, Fort Saskatchewan, Stony Plain and Devon.

The reception areas are farther out. Around Edmonton they would include such communities as Legal, Clyde, Gibbons, Redway, Tofield, Millet and Edson.

Cities themselves will be broken into community units, with community halls or schools to be used as Civil Defence headquarters.

Defence experts declare that only about three per cent of the population will actually be required in the Civil Defence organization.

All citizens, however, will receive defence education through varied means.

School children will receive training in the schools, and adults will receive Civil Defence education through various organizations such as community leagues, and through the press, radio, booklets, and other mediums.

Knowledge of the kind of attacks to be expected is the best means of defence against them, says Hon. C. E. Gerhart, Alberta

NEW RECTOR IS NAMED

A new Anglican Rector has been appointed for Redwater, Bon Accord and Gibbons, it has been announced by the Anglican Bishop of Edmonton.

Rev. J. E. Williams of Edmonton will take over his duties this month.

Rev. and Mrs. Williams came to Edmonton from Wales two years ago, and previous to his present appointment he has been curate at All Saint's Cathedral in Edmonton.

cabinet minister in charge of Civil Defence.

The objective is to teach every person how to protect himself in the event of atomic or other kinds of bombing attack.

Formation of Civil Defence organizations is something radically new in Canada, but will prove of extreme value to the welfare of the country.

Had there been Civil Defence groups organized at the time of the Leduc Hotel explosion, or the Manitoba floods, they would have been able to contribute greatly to meeting the emergencies.

WARNING SYSTEM

A national warning system is being set up by the RCAF that will operate on the fringes of Canada.

A 'reasonable' time of warning will be given in the event of an attack, according to G. R. Howsam, provincial defence co-ordinator.

Local Civil Defence groups, now being formed in many Alberta points, will be federated in a general organization next March.

Meanwhile, a party of officers from the National Defence College of Canada in Kingston, Ont., is in the midst of a tour of North America defence installations.

WINTER WONDERLAND is the way to describe Alberta these days. Here a skier finds the hills knee-deep with snow in the Foothills of the Rockies. Alberta has its share of winter sports paradises, just as it excels in summer vacation spots.

New Road Safety Signs Promote Better Driving

New safety signs are being erected throughout Alberta to promote safer driving on the province's highways.

Twelve new illuminated safety signs have been erected at the city limits of Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat, according to provincial officials.

Purpose of the signs is to warn drivers just before entering provincial highways to drive safely, heed traffic signs and signals and railway crossings. The signs are illuminated day and night.

There are six signs at Edmonton, four in Calgary, one in Lethbridge and one at Medicine Hat. Each sign is 10 feet by 25 feet with large lettering. They will be changed every three months.

The signs here are located on the Jasper highway, Calgary highway, Clover Bay road, Fort Saskatchewan road, Namoo road and St. Albert Trail.

The signs were erected for the department of economic affairs, in co-operation with the department of public works.

Funds were made available from the unsatisfied judgment funds set up under the Automobile Accident Indemnity Act passed by the legislature several years ago.

The LIGHTER SIDE

The Secret Is Out

"I wonder why Scotsmen are so good at golf?"
"They realize that the fewer times they strike the ball the longer it will last."

Not Fast Enough!

"Isn't it wonderful? Man can now travel swiftly on land, air, and water."
"The only drawback is that his creditors can, too."

The Ha-Man

Henpeck, safely out of his wife's hearing for once, was letting himself go. To a friend, who complained of some domestic difficulty, he said, grandly:
"My dear boy, we never have trouble of that sort in our house. If I say a thing is to be done, I insist upon it being done."
"And is it?"
"Of course," replied Henpeck, "—even if I have to do it myself."

Time to Vacate

"You say your mother-in-law threw a chair at you?" said the magistrate.
"Yes, sir."
"And then your wife threw a table at you?"
"Yes, sir."
"And what made you leave the house?"
"I saw my daughter looking thoughtfully at the sidebar."

LETTER TO LOUISA

Loneliness Can Be Overcome Says Alberta Widow's Letter

The following letter was written in answer to a reader who wrote a letter in September.

I am publishing it in full as Mrs. McCoy seems to have worked out a very satisfactory way of living.

"My dear Mrs. —
After reading your letter to-night I could not resist writing you, as I am a widow myself; have been for over 15 years. So naturally I realize what you mean by loneliness.

But I think the answer Louisa gave you is a good one for you to abide by.

I had a wonderful husband, the best ever and we had two sons who are now married and have families of their own. My oldest son has a wife and two children, four and one year old. My youngest son lives in Detroit and has a son two years old. I live with my oldest son and visit the youngest each year on my vacation.

After my husband's death I lived a suit case life, going from one to the other, but I was miserable. Neither of my sons wanted me to work.

And then one son was called in the service in 1942 and I started to work the same month as a saleslady in a little dress shop. My other son was called into service and stayed overseas two and one-half years. His wife and I lived together and we both worked. We took a course as nurse's aide and worked as nurses after we finished our eight hour jobs. We were tired but it kept us from thinking of our worry and loneliness.

I have been working nine years and live with my oldest son. I know I can never be as happy as I once was but I've always tried to make others happy and by doing this it helps me. So do try to do something extra to keep your time occupied and see if it doesn't help.

If you could be lucky enough to find the right man, marriage might be best but I have seen so many mistakes in second marriage, here in my home town that I have never been interested in men.

I enjoy my work and writing is one of my hobbies and I have quite a few pen friends which keeps me busy after dinner. I also belong to the Woodmen's circle, am one of the officers. We have two meetings a month besides the convention. I am a helper in the Beginner's Sunday School Department, which I enjoy very much.

I think that the sorrier we feel for ourselves the lonelier we get. Would be glad to have a letter from you if you care to write me.

(Mrs. Mamie McCoy)
I published this letter because it may help some other lonely widow.

LOUISA.

Crochet Contest Featured Across Canada This Month

ARE YOU a crochet enthusiast? If so you'll be interested in hearing about the Canada-wide Crochet Contest that is being featured in the course during the month of January.

This is the type of Contest that's fun for all. You don't have to write twenty-five words, finish a single or make the Seven Wonders of the World. All that's necessary is that you do what you most enjoy—in this case, crocheting.

A total of $1200.00 in cash prizes is being offered to winners and you may enter in one or more of these eight classifications: tablecloths, headpieces, luncheon cloths and sets, dollies, house hold items (such as curtains, coasters, pillow cases, potholders, chair backs, hot plate mats), fashion accessories, teen-age girls and men only.

The contest is being introduced in January but that doesn't mean you have to complete your entry in one month. You have until Oct. 1st, 1951 to send in your crocheted work. So be sure to ask at the Needlework Department of your favorite store for an entry form and rules leaflet giving you complete information about entering this Canada-wide Crochet Contest.

Color in crochet is particularly attractive and is becoming more and more popular. Not only in fashion accessories but also in articles for the home. With new building going on in all sections of the country, many families are busy turning houses into homes. There's a difference between a house and a home, you know, and it's an important difference. A house is made of bricks and plaster, cement and shingles but a home is built on love and understanding, mutual interests and family pride.

After furnishing your home with the essential large pieces will come the true test of your ingenuity in making your home the center of your family life. You'll want to express your own personality in your rooms by adding touches that reflect the taste and way of living of your family. This can be done most effectively in your choice of accessories.

Now there are two types of accessories—the purely decorative and the utilitarian. Regardless of which type you want to use, make a test of its fitness for your decorating scheme by asking yourself a few simple questions: Is it a thing of beauty? Is it appropriate for your room? Is it a good companion for your other accessories? Does it fit in with the color scheme of your room?

The colorful doily shown here answers "yes" to all three questions. It is certainly a thing of beauty and will fit in with almost any type of room and most color schemes. The doily is inspired by the black-eyed susan daisy and has a center motif and a border of the yellow-petaled flowers with their black centers. Might be just the thing you'd like to enter in that Crochet Contest mentioned at the beginning of our chat. So if you would like to have directions for the BLACK-EYED SUSAN DOILY, simply send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Dept. of this paper asking for Leaflet No. D-367.
